Dear St. Andrew’s School friends,

Warmly,

Cyndy Weldon-Lassiter, Ed.D.  David Shuford

Tremendous thanks to you for making it all possible. Here’s to the next 120 years!

To see how we are making good use of your support, please spend some time at st-andrews-school.org to explore our Fiscal Report, Strategic Plan and Speeches from our staff and board. You will find a wealth of information about the school and witness firsthand our kindergarteners skipping into the classroom as a model for educating economically disadvantaged youth and their families.

These and other strategic initiatives will propel St. Andrew’s School toward serving more students and to fulfill our vision of providing an education for all children who are interested in attending St. Andrew’s School.

We are grateful for your support and hope you will continue to be a partner with us.

Ready for the Next 120 Years

Dear St. Andrew’s School Friends,

Within the folds of these pages, we are excited to share the successes of another stellar year in the life of our school. Our Annual Report is an opportunity to recognize your amazing support and to provide a preview of where your generosity will take us. St. Andrew’s 120-year-old mission may remain the same, but the school is now positioned to fulfill that vision in new and exciting ways.

As we plan for the future, the Board of Directors has approved a strategic vision that will enhance the educational experience of our students and the outcomes they can expect. Thanks to your generous support this year, we not only were able to expand some of our programs, we were empowered to renovate the 120-year-old building for the first time in decades. The resulting upgrades, ranging from roof, gutters, walls and floors, all the way to the installation of a new HVAC system, will enable us to use the historic building in more ways throughout the year, including the summer. The project has finally enabled us, among other things, to begin exploring a year-round school calendar and out-of-school time programs that were not possible previously.

These and other strategic initiatives will propel St. Andrew’s School toward serving as a model for educating economically disadvantaged youth and their families. I learned how to be a parent through St. Andrew’s. They were a consistent part of our lives for all those years. I don’t know if I could have made it through without them.

My hope for Joel is to fulfill his purpose in life. To have a lot of opportunities, go to a good high school, receive a scholarship for college, be a college athlete and pursue a career that makes him happy.

In closing, we are proud to say that our school is one year forward funded. In FY15, SAS raised an additional $1,490,000 to repair and update its 120 year old building. SAS is now a very happy and successful student at Seven Hills School.

Thank you for contributing to the transformative experience that St. Andrew’s School provides for our students. We hope you’ll continue to do so.

I love that chapel is a part of the school week. I feel that the right way, has the right idea of what the right way is, because I learned that here.

I think Joel is well prepared for middle school. He plays sports in the city and I watch him interact with other kids and the way he handles certain situations. He handles things the right way, has the right idea of what the right way is, because he learned that here.

My hope for Joel is to fulfill his purpose in life. To have a lot of opportunities, go to a good high school, receive a scholarship for college, be a college athlete and pursue a career that makes him happy.

My favorite part of St. Andrew’s is the Pre-K teacher: she is so kind and loves the children.

When I gained full custody of my one-year-old son Joel, I didn’t have any idea how to be a parent. My father was murdered when I was a boy and later my mother suffered a massive stroke. I didn’t have any older family members to turn to for help. I am still grateful for the day Joel’s pre-K teacher suggested I look into St. Andrew’s School.

I learned how to be a parent through St. Andrew’s. They were a consistent fact in our lives for all those years. I don’t know if I could have made it through without them.

I learned how to be a parent through St. Andrew’s and they have been like the mother figure, that other parent role in our family. They were a consistent fact in our lives for all those years. I don’t know if I could have made it through without them.

My son received a great education here, but the school also provided some of the social and emotional context that I couldn’t have done alone. The self-esteem and confidence he gained here started his life in a positive direction. I always worried the best for my son and St. Andrew’s was the first step.

My hope for Joel is to fulfill his purpose in life. To have a lot of opportunities, go to a good high school, receive a scholarship for college and pursue a career that makes him happy.

I am proud of this experience - my son went to St. Andrew’s School. I hear stories from parents about other schools and I don’t have any bad stories. It’s a whole family environment here and it has just been a great experience. I know I could not have done it alone.

2014-2015 Honor Roll of Donors

St. Andrew’s School gratefully acknowledges the generous support of our donors. Your gifts help transform lives by providing quality, progressive education to children from families limited with full scholarship for a child of every race. Our Honor Roll of Donors recognizes those who have restricted and unrestricted gifts, which were received between July 1, 2014, and June 30, 2015.

Generosity is a gift to the future.
The school has kept my son out of harm’s way for this first part of his life.

I love that chapel is a part of the school week. I feel that the school has the right idea of what the right way is, because my son received a great education here, but the school also provided some of the social and emotional context that my son needed.

I learned how to be a parent through St. Andrew’s and the school was a consistent fact in our lives for all those years. I don’t know if I could have made it through those years. I don’t know if I could have done alone. The self-esteem and confidence that my son received here has helped him. For my son to be exposed to coaches and professionals who are interested in him and who spoke up for him when he needed it was an amazing experience.

Joel’s lunch buddy coaches his own son in basketball so it is an interaction that is helpful. Joel’s teachers are like family to him. His classmates and staff care and support him. They are there for him. They are his family. It’s a whole family environment here and it has helped my son through difficult times.

I learned how to be a parent through St. Andrew’s and I couldn’t have done it without them.

My father was murdered when I was a boy and later my mother suffered a massive stroke. I didn’t have any older family members to turn to for help. I am still grateful for the day Joel’s pre-K teacher suggested I look into St. Andrew’s School.

I want the best for my son and St. Andrew’s was the first school that I wanted to apply to, and the only one that I was going to apply to. I couldn’t have done it without you, the parents, the students and the teachers. Thank you for making it all possible. Here’s to the next 120 years!
